This document is a first-pass reconstruction of the printed bulletin (12 photographed pages, transcribed) plus structural notes for liturgical world modelling. It renders the shape of the service and its texts-by-reference; it is not the full printed word-for-word text. Hymn/setting attributions are from the bulletin.

1 · The shape of the service

This is a Western eucharistic liturgy in the fourfold ecumenical ordo that the Canadian Book of Alternative Services shares with the Roman, Lutheran, and Episcopal rites. Four movements, each with a hinge action:

Movement	Hinge	What happens
Gathering	Assembling & praise	Procession, greeting, land acknowledgement, Gloria, Collect — the assembly is constituted and turns toward God.
Word	Reading & response	Three lessons + psalm, Gospel, Sermon, Creed, Intercessions, Confession, Peace — Scripture proclaimed and answered.
Table (Eucharist)	Take, bless, break, give	Offertory, Great Thanksgiving, Lord's Prayer, Fraction, Communion — the four dominical actions over bread and wine.
Sending	Blessing & commission	Commissioning of lay ministers, Blessing, Closing Hymn, Dismissal — the assembly is sent out.

STRUCTURE The engine of the rite is the split between Ordinary (fixed sung texts that recur every Sunday — Gloria, Sanctus, Agnus Dei) and Proper (what changes with the day — Collect, readings, psalm, sermon, propers of music). Modelling a liturgy means modelling this two-track structure: a stable frame with slots the day's Proper is plugged into.

DISCREPANCY Proper numbering (Canada vs. RCL/Episcopal). The bulletin labels the day “Proper 14”, but the readings (Gen 24; Ps 45; Rom 7; Matt 11:16–30) are the Revised Common Lectionary set for the Sunday nearest July 6 — which the Episcopal/US RCL numbers “Proper 9”. The Canadian Anglican BAS uses its own Proper numbering offset from the American one, so the same Sunday carries two different “Proper” numbers. To verify against BAS tables — but this print-label-vs-lectionary offset looks like exactly the kind of content/context mismatch worth logging.

DISCREPANCY Print vs. online. The cover QR resolves to thecathedral.ca/.../july-5-proper-14, but that page is JavaScript-rendered; the saved HTML captured only the shell (its <title> came through as “Facebook Icon”), not the online order of service. A true print-vs-online diff needs the page rendered in a real browser — a concrete next step (Chromium is available in this environment).

LECTIONARY Year A, Track 1. July 2026 falls in RCL Year A (Matthew), which the Gospel confirms. The Genesis 24 first reading (Isaac and Rebekah) is the semicontinuous Track 1 Old Testament stream, paired here with Psalm 45 (a royal wedding psalm) — note the deliberate nuptial echo between lesson and psalm. Romans 7 is the Epistle’s own semicontinuous track, independent of the Gospel theme.

MUSIC Layered sources. The sung Ordinary is split across idioms: Gloria and Agnus Dei from David Hurd’s New Plainsong (modern chant), but the Sanctus from Hassler’s Renaissance Missa super Dixit Maria — a mixed setting, not a single unified mass. Hymnody is congregational (Common Praise); the choir carries the Latin-tradition polyphony (Tallis at communion). For modelling: “the music” is not one slot but several, each with its own provenance and performer.

STRUCTURE Dialogic backbone. The whole rite runs on fixed call-and-response pairs (Presider → All): the greeting, the Peace, the Sursum corda, the acclamations, the dismissal. These versicle/response units are the connective tissue between the larger blocks — a good primitive to model as a distinct type from the monologue prayers and the sung ordinary.
